

11. Emulsion Scanning

The use of automated scanning stations, pioneered at Nagoya University, has brought emulsion analysis into the digital era. The data recorded in the emulsion is extracted and summarized on standard mass storage media with speeds and efficiency that exceed human scanners by three orders of magnitude.